

APPI EXCEPTIONAL MENTOR AWARD

Brad Schultz, RPP

Recognizing above and beyond support of Candidate members in their professional planning practice and competence.

Brad was nominated for this award by Ashley Johns.

Brad has been a phenomenal mentor during the RPP certification process and beyond. He is always willing to provide guidance and is patient and reassuring when explaining policies and procedures. Brad challenges those that he mentors to ask questions and to be confident in revisiting policies when it is in the public interest. Brad is a leader amongst his professional colleagues and he takes pride in the provision of exceptional customer service to his community. Brad is committed to ensuring that those he mentors early in their careers, have opportunities to expand their knowledge and professional experiences, and he ensures that they are exposed as much as possible to the core competencies for the planning profession. He takes pride in ensuring that the Candidate journey to RPP certification is fun, exciting and filled with knowledge and good planning practices.

It is worth noting that Brad was also a recipient of the exceptional mentor award in 2018, further demonstrating his long term commitment to mentoring others.

On behalf of the Institute and Membership I congratulate Brad Schultz as a recipient of the 2021 Exceptional Mentor Award!
