2027 Membership Renewals

Member renewals are being released to all members' preferred email addresses this week. If you have not received your renewal email by November 23, 2026, and it is not in your SPAM folder, please contact the APPI Office. It is very important that your member status is current, along with your employer and contact information. If you have changes please advise APPI administration accordingly as per below.

Has your member status and/or contact information changed?

If you have changes to your member status, employer or contact information, please contact Michelle Collins at office@albertaplanners.com or complete and submit this Member Change of Contact Form.

2026 CPL Reporting deadline is December 31, 2026

A reminder that all regulated members (Registered Professional Planners and Candidate members, including Non-Practicing unless they have been applied and been approved for a reporting exemption) are required to report their Learning Units (LUs) for 2026 on or before December 31, 2026. Information on the Continuous Professional Learning (CPL) program is found here Continuous Professional Learning.

New resource: Municipal Climate Communications Toolkit

Planners are often the ones explaining climate projects to residents, and misinformation can make that harder. The Green Municipal Fund's free toolkit includes ready-to-use messages for Alberta communities, guides to local climate data, message templates and two self-paced e-courses, one of them on responding to misinformation.
