Senior Development Relations Liaison

Full Time

In Medicine Hat you'll enjoy a perfectly sized city and an inviting community with an enviable quality of life for individuals and families. And here at the City of Medicine Hat, you'll be part of the progressive team that's bringing new amenities, new communities, and new industries to an already-thriving city.

In this role, you are an ambassador and demonstrate leadership regarding Planning and Development processes, facilitating engagement and building collaborative working relationships with both internal and external parties of the Planning and Development Department. You proactively explore continuous improvement opportunities in customer service, processes, and consistency in application of regulations and requirements. You will routinely investigate and follow-up on issues that are often controversial and that require a high level of tact and diplomacy.

Our ideal candidate

- You are known for building and maintaining cooperative and productive relationships with stakeholders.
- You are a leader who implements new strategies/approaches and process improvements.
- You are able to anticipate the short- and long-term consequences of strategies and develop backup options to effectively manage potentially negative outcomes.
- You have extensive knowledge of planning and development processes and systems.

Qualifications

- You have completed a degree in planning, land economics, architecture, stakeholder relations, management, conflict resolution, public administration, communication or related from a recognized post-secondary institution.
- You have five years of experience providing advice and guidance, with proven results in planning and development issues management.

Medicine Hat is home to three breweries that hold history and extremely tasty home-brewed beer, Hell's Basement, Medicine Hat Brew Co., and Travois Ale Works. The beer can be enjoyed inside the breweries or on their patios accompanied with a full menu and finger food. Most of the refreshing beers are found bottled, canned or on tap at locally owned bars and eateries in the city. THAT'S INNOVATION,

MEDICINE HAT STYLE!
