The University Campus Master Plan is a culmination of an extensive planning process that took place over the course of eighteen months beginning in May 2011. The 25-year Campus Plan for the University of Lethbridge considers and builds upon the University's previous master plans, while identifying immediate programmatic needs and establishing a long-term vision for the campus. The Plan harmonizes both the pragmatics and aesthetics of what constitutes a campus – securing the University's long-term viability as a "unique-in-the-world" destination campus.

Spencer Court is the U of L's Associate Director, Campus Planning and Architecture (Facilities) and was the lead planning manager and university representative for the Master Plan project.
